

WATCH IT!
THAT LOOSE BOMB!

Yo G-P here.

Well, well. I was worried that the previous chapter was really the last one, since it's the only one so far that ended with a "The End". But I guess we're in for the long haul here. It seems there is some misconception about what I'm doing. Laethiel from booru provides the translation and I'm just pasting the actual english text on the pages, with some redrawing here and there. I ain't no translator, not even a scanlator considering Doitsuken releases this on his twitter account. I'm just some random shlub who does some photoshop things and sometimes rewords other things. Laethiel translated every single chapter if I'm not mistaken, so big props to that lad. Anyway, it seems Kitsune Spirit ain't going away anytime soon. Yay for that. Not much else to say except fuck redrawing and stuff. And I got a few bottles of Chimay Blue. Yay for me.

Next chapter soon.

RIP HOUSE (AND TANUKI)
